EASTER DAY SERVICES. All the Churches Observe the Glad Festival with Rejoicings. The Easter services in the various churches were carried out as announced in SCHDAY'S HERALD. Music, flowers, in spiring discourses and large congregations characterized the day. It lacked a little of being a perfect Easter as heavy clouds obscured the sun, but the bright associations which the festiover dispelled the gloom and "a happy Easter" was passed.

At the cathedral of St. Andrew's three impressive services were cele brated. Low masses were sung at 6 and 8 a.m. and at 10:30 o'clock the Rt. Rev. H. J. Richter sang she solemn high mass before an immense congre-gation. The sermon was delivered by the Rev. Fr. N. N. Poulin.

Pontifical vesters were sung at 3:30 p. m.

At St. Mark's church an unusually large congregation attended the early service, which was brief and simple but deeply solemn. It consisted of the reading of the order of morning prayer. At the full service at 10:30 o'clock an uitra fashionable audience was present that packed the church to the doors. Owing to the fact that very elaborate music had been given during Holy week the program at this service was not so varied as in former years. The floral decorations were chaste and effective in design. The sitar was banked with calls likes, and the baptis mal four and applied to the contract of the co mal font and pulpit with crimson and yellow tulips. Doctor Fair delivered an eloquent and forceful sermon, taking his text from I Corinthians, xv 12:
"Now if Christ be preached that he rose from the dead, how say some among you that there is no resurrection of the dead?" The doctor's de tion of the dead?" The doctor's da-course was a masterly appeal to the higher and nobler impulses of the human heart. As the offerstory hymn Mrs. Davis sang very sweetly Handel's "I Know That My Redeemer Liveth." Full communion followed. In the afternoon a beautifu! Easter service was held especially for the children of the parish. Joyous Easter carols and brief remarks by the rector and the reading of evening prayers comprised the service. Vespers at 7:30 o'clock were largely attended by those unable to gain admittance to the morning COMPLIMENTED THE STAFF, Prof. Swensberg Remembers the "Boys" at a Pretty Easter Dinner.

Prof. C. G. Swensberg, president of THE HERALD company, paid a very pretty and graceful compliment to the editorial staff of the paper yesterday. At 6 o'clock, by invitation of the professor, the gentlemen sat down to s dainty Easter dinner at Sweet's hotel. The host had looked personally after the little details that lent elegance to the affair. The tables were exquisitely decorated with great banks or exotic roses and the entire affair was most enjoyable and gratifying to the participants. At the close of the dinner the professor suggested that the floral decorations be sent to the patients at St. Mark's hospital with the compliments of The Herald. Mine Host Risely dispatched the offerings to the hospital, where they were received with expressions of thanks. expressions of thanks.

AFTER TWO FULL YEARS. Thomas Parker is Arrested on a Charge of Larceny.

Two years ago Joseph A. Corbert left his horse hitched on Canal street and Thomas Parker, a young man of the town drove the rig away. Shortly after he was caught with it in his possession and before he could be arrested he jumped from the carriage and made his escape. A warrant was issued from police court May 1, 1890, for his arrest and the officers have been watching for him since. Yesterday Detective Smith met him on Monroe street and politely told him he was wanted at police headquarters. Parker accompanied the de-quarters. Parker accompanied the de-tective without any hesitation and was locked up in the county jail last even-ing. Since his little escapade two years ago he has been at Foreman working in the lumber woods. He will be ar-raigned in police court this morning on a charge of largery.

CL255 PHESS VI vast field of literature, a few choice vast field of literature, a few choice spirits rise above the crowd and give dignity and distinction to the art of story telling. Among the ladies who have achieved fame and popularity in the domain of fiction, and probably one of the greatest of living authors is Mrs. Humpbrey Ward, whose novel. Robert Elmere, produced as great a sensation as was caused by appearance of George Eliot's Adam Bede. Encouraged by this success, Mrs. Ward has followed her former volume with a new work which promises to rival the new work which promises to rival the preceding book in popularity. The public will watch with keen interest the progressive development of this latest of female novelists.

Kenzie is dead at his home in Toronto, Ont. He was leader of the minority in the dominion house of commons in the early seventies, and when the Pacific railway scandals, in November, 1873, forced Sir John Macdonald to resign, the liberal leader was called upon to form a new ministry. Parliament was dissolved, and in the elections of 1874 the new government was sustained by a large majority. The conservatives then began their famous campaign for a "national policy" and higher duties upon imports. When the liberal par-liament reached its statutory limit and an appeal was made to the country in August, 1878, the result was the return of a tory majority of a hundred in a house 206 members. Stace his retirement from office the ex-premier has resided in Toronto, Ont.

MRS. JAMES H. HETHERINGTON. Wife of the Slayer of George Gower Robinson of Yokohama.

The announcement from Yokohama of the acquittal of Lieutenant Hetherington, U. S. N., recalls public attention to a tragedy in the departers capitimacy between the slayer's wife and George Gower Robinson. The silly wo man who was the cause of the fatal affair shocked public ashtiment by atthe shorting and while her husband lay in prison awaiting a justiced determination of this case. When reproved by a friend for this heartless levity, her reply was: "Why, I didn't kill the man, it was my husband; why should I shut myself up for that?"

I met, at the Hotel Marquardt, Commander Beardslee, of the United States navy. In speaking of my sickness, he remarked: 'Doctor, you can cure that chest trouble of yours by using an All-cock's Porous Plaster.' 'That may be true,' I answered, 'but where can I get the plaster?' 'Anywhere in the civil-treed world and sweety here in Stutt. ized world, and surely here in Stutt-gart. Whenever I have a cold, I al-ways use one and find relief.' I sent to the drug store for the plaster, and ... did all my friend had promised. Ever since then I have used it whenever suffering from a cold, and I have many times prescribed it for patients.

"The Allcock Plaster is the best to be illness, and undoubtedly, if used promptly, will save many valuable lives. Whenever one has a severe cold they should put on an Allcock's Plaster as soon as possible. It should be placed across the chest, the upper margin just below the neck; some hot beet ten, or milk, will aid in the treatment.

"This is not a patent remedy in the objectionable sense of that term, but a standard preparation of value. The government supplies for the U. S. army and Indian hospital stores contain All-cock's Plasters, and the medical profession throughout the world are well aware of their reliability and excel-lence. I shall always recommend it, not only to break up colds, but as use-ful in allaying pains in the chest and in the back. It is a preparation worthy of general confidence."
